

The Sermon on the Mount

The Code.

Survey of the Code.

1. Introduction. W. 19-20.

2. Law. Introduction - Intro. A.

i. Introduction to the Code

- 1. Introduction. W. 19-20.
- 2. Law. Introduction - Intro. A.

These are the foundation laws of social relationships.

1. Love of the race; love of neighbor; love of God. The race is to be propagated and trained.

The thing touches the inner life. Morality begins at the heart.

Heart. } Abstract. } Moral.

ii. Cases of murder and social relations.

- 1. Verse 23-27. Code of any kind. One to be understood.
- 2. Verse 38-42. Justice. Secured by sympathy of love.

iii. A new attitude towards the world and man. Verse 43-48. Love which is God-like in that it is unlearned.

B. Future relations.

i. The Principle. W. 1. "Righteousness before God."

ii. Illustrations.

- 1. Quidam. W. 2-4. Hmo.
- 2. Herodotus. W. 5-12. Prop.
- 3. Lament. W. 16-18. Lament.

The Sermon on the Mount.

Inward all on the Mount
The Code

Survey of the Code.

A. Inter-relation.

i. Two illustrative commandments from the Decalogue.

- verses 21-26. Sixth. murder.
- " 27-32. Seventh. Adultery.

These are the foundation laws of social relationship.

- Love of the race.
- Particular love of affinity by which the race is to be propagated and trained.

The King touches the inner life.
Morality begins at the heart.

Hatred. } Arrested.
Desire }

ii. Bases of a wider social relation.

- verses 33-37. Truth. Oaths of any kind are to be unnecessary.
- " 38-42. Justice. Secured by overplus of love.

iii. A new attitude towards enemies.

verses 43-48. Love which is God-like in that it is undeserved.

B. Divine relation.

i. The Principle vi. 1. "Righteousness before God."

ii. Illustrations.

- Outward. vi. 2-4. Alms.
- Heavenward. vi. 5-15. Prayer.
- Inward. vi. 16-18. Fasting.

C. Laws for the Subjects of the Kingdom with relation to their position in the world.

i. Covetousness. vi. 19-24.

ii. Care. vi. 25-34.

iii. Censoriousness. vii. 1-6.

Conclusion.

What mosaic words are omitted?