HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE CHICAGO THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY was organized on the 27th of September, 1854, by delegates from Congregational churches in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin and Missouri; was incorporated by the State of Illinois on the 15th of February, 1855; and began its work on the 6th of October, 1858.

The founders of the institution gave to it certain characteristic features which were thought necessary to fit it to train men for the needs of the Congregational churches of the Interior. The nature of the work in the growing western churches led them to break away from the traditional views regarding theological seminaries and adapt the institution they were founding to the work it had to do. They aimed to put the seminary "under the watch and control of the churches;" to find a "practical way of training men" for the ministry, so that students should not be "educated out of acquaintance and sympathy with the conditions in which they were to work;" to give men "unable to go through college, yet having had advantages of study, and a heart devoted to the work and natural gifts therefor" an education for the ministry; to "enlarge the curriculum so that students sent forth from this Seminary should be fitted for a more varied campaign than they would be qualified for under the old routine of theological study." The growth of the Seminary, which has been steady and especially rapid during the last decade, has followed the broad lines laid down by its founders. Through its Triennial Convention the Seminary has been kept in close relation to the churches of its constituency. The principle of enabling students to acquire practice as well as theory has led to the present system of the Seminary field work to which students are assigned in connection with the churches, missions, Sunday Schools, evangelistic efforts and philanthropic and reformatory institutions of the city, and which has been found eminently useful, in giving the students practical knowledge and experience in methods of christian work, and in helping the missions and evangelistic work of the city.

While the standard of requirements of admission for other than college graduates has been gradually raised to meet the growing demand for a better educated ministry till at present a training equivalent to a scientific or philosophical course in college is necessary to enter the Seminary, the directors have never forgotten that it was founded to meet the existing need of the churches in the men it furnishes. Along this line it felt and responded to the demand for ministers for our foreign-speaking Congregational churches by founding courses of study for German and Scandinavian students. The course for German students was opened in 1882, for Danes and Norwegians in 1884, and for Swedes in 1885. The Seminary has also been awake to the need of broadening its curriculum. The authorities have given a prominent place to missions and church music. In 1892 they founded a professorship of Christian Sociology and the evangelistic use of the Bible, being the first of the seminaries in this country to give Christian Sociology a recognized place in its Board of Instruction. In 1893 a professorship of Assyriology and Comparative Religion was founded that the Seminary might keep abreast of modern researches in these lines.

The material growth of the Seminary has also been marked. It has experienced the advantages of the wise forethought of its founders in placing it in close and vital union with the churches it serves, and has never appealed to them for material help in vain.

ORGANIZATION.

The organization of the Seminary consists of the Triennial Convention, the Board of Directors, the Board of Instructors and the Board of Examiners.

The Triennial Convention meets once in three years and elects the Board of Directors. The convention consists of the Board of Directors, Board of Instruction, and the delegates appointed, one from each of the local associations of the states composing the constituency of the Seminary. Associations which have a church membership of over fifteen hundred are entitled to one additional delegate for each additional five hundred members. Through this Triennial Convention the Seminary is kept in close connection with the churches.

The Board of Directors consists of twenty-four members, who have full control of all departments of the Seminary. They appoint from their number an executive committee of eight members who conduct the affairs of the Seminary under the general direction of the Board of Directors. The executive committee holds regular meetings on the first Friday afternoon of each month.

The members of the Board of Instruction are elected by the Board of Directors. The officers are president, secretary, registrar and standing committees. The Faculty holds its regular meeting each Friday afternoon from four to five o'clock.

The Board of Examiners consists of members chosen biennially by the General Associations of Congregational churches in the states of the Seminary's constituency, one from each state, also by the General Associations of German, Danish-Norwegian and Swedish Congregational churches, one for each of these nationalities. They attend the annual examinations at the close of the Seminary year, and report thereon to the Board of Directors, and to the bodies appointing them.

CORRIDOR, FISK HALL.

ADMISSION AND DEGREES.

CONDITIONS OF ADMISSION.

1. The Seminary is open to students of all denominations.
2. Candidates for admission to any department of the Seminary must present testimonials of good moral character.
3. Graduates of theological seminaries will be admitted as graduate students.
4. Candidates for admission to the Junior Class must have had a collegiate education or an equivalent preparation.
5. Persons already in the ministry, who desire further theological study, will be admitted to the instruction of the Seminary, as arrangements may be made with the Faculty. But no student of this class will be received for less than one year. Students of this class are subject to the same regulations in regard to Seminary work, which govern other students. They receive no financial aid. Those who pass a satisfactory examination upon work done in the Seminary, will receive a certificate of the same.
6. The literary requirements for admission to the foreign departments may be learned on application to the professors in charge.

REQUIREMENTS FOR GRADUATION.

1. The candidate must have completed to the satisfaction of the Faculty the full course of study in the Seminary.
2. The candidate must present to the Faculty a thesis on some theological topic, prepared under the direction of the professor in that department to which the topic belongs. The subject of the thesis must be presented to the professor within one month after the beginning of the Senior year, and the thesis must be presented to the Faculty not later than March 31st in each year. In estimating the value of the thesis, chief importance will be attached to scholarly methods and independent research. The candidate must present a type-written copy of his thesis to the Seminary.

3. Candidates for graduation from the foreign departments must complete the full course of study laid down in their departments.

4. A certificate of graduation from the various departments will be conferred on all students who fulfill the above requirements.

REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES.

The Seminary, in addition to the certificate of graduation, offers the degrees of Bachelor of Divinity and Doctor of Philosophy, under the following regulations:

I. The degree of Bachelor of Divinity.

The degree of Bachelor of Divinity will be conferred on the following conditions:

1. The candidate must have taken all the prescribed work in Hebrew and Greek, and fulfilled all the requirements for graduation, including the thesis.

2. The candidate must pass special written examinations in the following departments: Hebrew scriptures, Greek scriptures, History, Theology and Sociology. These examinations will be on subjects announced from year to year in the Year Book of the Seminary. The examinations in the departments of Hebrew and Greek will be held at the close of Middle year. Those in the departments of History, Theology, and Sociology, at the close of Senior year. For students who enter at the beginning of Senior year, an examination in Hebrew and Greek will be held at the close of the first period in Senior year.

The subjects of the B. D. examination for the classes of 1901 and 1902 are the following:

Hebrew.

1901. The Book of Joshua, including translation of the text, questions on introduction and on geography.

1902. The Prophecy of Zechariah, questions on introduction and interpretation.

Greek.

1901. The Epistle to the Galatians. The test will include translation of the text and interpretation.

1902. II Corinthians, including translation of the text, and questions on the introduction and grammatical interpretation.

History.

1901. History of the Waldenses.

1902. Arianism.

Theology.

1901. "The Doctrine of the Incarnation."

1902. The Christian Doctrine of Sin. Calvin's Institutes, bk. I, chap. 15, bk. II, chaps. 1-3; Clarke's Outline of Christian Theology, part III; Dorner's System of Christian Doctrine, vol. III, §§ 79-84; John Fiske, "The Origin of Evil."

Sociology.

1901. Modern theories of heredity in relation to the Biblical data and theological tenets involved.

1902. The social status of the family as affected by Christianity.

N. B.—Students who desire an additional session of study in preparation for the B. D. examinations, will be admitted to a fourth year, during which attendance on elective courses only will be required.

II. The degree of Doctor of Philosophy.

The degree of Doctor of Philosophy will be conferred on the following conditions:

1. A diploma of graduation from some recognized college or university.

2. A diploma of graduation from the full course (including Hebrew and Greek) of a theological seminary.

3. A two years' course of study at Chicago Theological Seminary. See regulations for Graduate Courses.

4. A thesis prepared in one of the three chosen departments, on a subject accepted by the professor in the department to which it belongs. This thesis must be scientific in method, exhaustive in its subject-matter, and worthy to be called a contribution to the knowledge of its respective theme. The thesis must be accepted on its own merits before an examination can be had. The thesis must be presented one month before the examination. Accepted theses must be printed and twenty-five copies presented to the Seminary.

5. A final examination in three departments of study. The one in which the thesis belongs is major and the other two are minors. The examination will be oral in the major and written in the two minors. The oral examination will be conducted by the professors of the three departments chosen by the candidate.

NOTE 1.—In no case does the fulfillment of the time condition entitle a candidate to the degree, since the degree is granted solely on the merits of the thesis and the examinations.

NOTE 2.—A charge of $10.00 for the diploma is made to students who receive the degree of Ph. D.

FELLOWSHIPS.

Committee on Seminary Fellowships—PROFESSORS CURTISS, FISK AND GILBERT.

Two fellowships of ten thousand dollars each have been established by Mr. E. W. Blatchford, of Chicago, and the late Dr. C. L. Ford, of Ann Arbor, Michigan. The income of these fellowships will be granted for the two years immediately succeeding graduation, on the following conditions:

1. A fellowship shall be available only for students who take their entire course of three successive years in the Chicago Theological Seminary.

2. A fellowship shall be assigned by the Executive Committee, on the recommendation of the Faculty, to that member of each graduating class who, by native ability, success in study, and christian character, shall give promise of the highest usefulness as a christian scholar. The Executive Committee reserves the right to withhold the fellowship in any year, for sufficient reasons.

3. The graduate to whom a fellowship shall be assigned shall be unmarried and shall so remain until he has completed the course of study contemplated in the fellowship.

4. The studies of a Fellow shall be under the supervision of the Faculty, to whom he shall give a detailed report twice a year.

The following is a list of those who have held Seminary fellowships: Herbert Wright Gates, 1894-1896; Frank Gibson Ward, 1894-1896; Benjamin S. Winchester, 1895-1897; Horace Leslie Strain, 1896-1898; R. E. Bowers, 1898; H. M. Jones, 1898; James Mullenbach, 1899.

PRIZE IN DEPARTMENT OF SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

The Lucretia Ambrose Walker prize is the income of $1,000, and is given to the member of the Middle Class who prepares the best essay on a designated topic in Systematic Theology. The prize has been awarded to the following persons: W. S. Hunt and A. W. Ackerman, 1889; J. W. Wilson and J. W. Marshall, 1890; H. M. Richardson and S. G. Kent, 1891; S. G. Lamb, 1892; E. V. Wight, 1894; R. R. Kennan, 1895; C. T. Chase, 1896; R. E. Bowers, 1897; D. W. Dexter, 1898; W. O. Rogers, 1899.

MERIT SCHOLARSHIPS.

Committee on Scholarships and Loans—PROFESSORS TAYLOR, CURTISS AND SCOTT.

For the purpose of encouraging a high grade of scholarship and enabling needy and worthy students to secure a training for the ministry, the Seminary offers the following series of graded scholarships to each of the classes in the English Department:

One high honor scholarship of $175 to the student who attains a grade of 95 per cent.

Two honor scholarships of $125 each to students whose grade is 90 per cent.

Scholarships of $100 each to students whose grade is 80 per cent.

Scholarships of $75 each to students whose grade is 75 per cent.

These scholarships are granted on the following conditions:

1. Evidence of good health.
2. Evidence of Christian character and promise of usefulness in the ministry.
3. Evidence of pecuniary inability to take the Seminary course without financial aid.
4. Middle year scholarships are assigned to members of the middle class on the basis of the grade attained in junior year, and may ordinarily be retained during senior year on the maintenance of the required grade, provided due notice of the desire to retain a scholarship is given.
5. Students from other Seminaries, who enter the middle and senior classes, will be granted scholarships, provided such are available, on testimonials of rank obtained in their previous work, but no honor scholarship will be granted without a special examination.
6. Junior scholarships are assigned on the basis of standing and testimonials as to character and promise of efficiency; but only on probation for the first period of the Seminary year, at the close of which period the assignment of scholarships will be open to revision. Honor scholarships for the junior year will not be assigned till the close of the first period.
7. The retention of any scholarship is conditioned upon the maintenance of the required grade. Should a man's work not fulfill the requirements of a higher scholarship, he may receive one of a lower grade, should such be available.
8. No scholarship will be granted a student whose grade is below 75 per cent.
9. Scholarship money will not be granted to any student who has charge of a church or who marries during his Seminary course.
10. The Seminary will endeavor, as far as its funds allow, to grant scholarships to all men who attain required grades, but if there are more men than available scholarships in any grade, all will receive scholarship rank and title, but those lowest in rank will receive the scholarship money of the next lower grade.
11. Students who by merit are entitled to scholarships but who do not need the money, or who prefer to take a loan, will receive the honor and rank which go with the scholarship.

SCHOLARSHIPS IN THE FOREIGN DEPARTMENTS.

Scholarships in the Foreign Departments are granted on the same general plan as in the English Department.

1. In the German Department three scholarships, one of $75 and two of $50, are offered for each class.

2. In the Dano-Norwegian Department two scholarships, one of $75 and one of $50 are offered for each class.

3. In the Swedish Department four scholarships are offered for each class. Two of $75 and two of $50 for the Senior and Middle classes, and four of $40 for the Junior class.

LOANS.

1. Loans are granted only to undergraduates.

2. Sums usually not exceeding $75 a year to each of a limited number of students are loaned in proportion to need, on notes at nominal interest, payable in annual installments after graduation.

3. As only a definite sum is annually available for loans to students, new applicants should, to avoid misunderstanding, correspond in advance with the Secretary of the Faculty regarding the possibility of securing the aid they need.

4. Students who marry during their Seminary course are ineligible for the above loans.

5. The funds available for the aid of students are provided from the income of the D. K. Pearsons Fund, the gift of Dr. and Mrs. Pearsons, the contributions of the Chicago churches, and the following scholarships, pledged but not all paid in full:

John F. and Abbie F. Mendsen, $3,500.00; Nathaniel Bouton, $3,000.00; Julius W. Butler, $3,000.00; H. M. Hooker, $3,000.00; Samuel Plumb, $3,000.00; W. Coit Hubbard, $3,000.00; A. L. Knowles, $1,500.00; Mrs. S. L. Kennedy, $1,500.00; Léw London, $1,500.00; Olivet, $1,500.00; Joseph Tilson, $1,500.00; Elbridge Torrey, $1,500.00; Spencer Warner, $1,500.00; Lucy Warner, $1,500.00; Wolcott, $1,500.00; N. S. Cushing, $1,500.00; Blood, $1,500.00; Willard Cook, $1,400.00; Kansas, $1,369.42; John and Flavel Bascom, $1,100.00; Princeton, $1,066.55; Galva, $1,030.00; Mrs. Lucy Bartlett, $1,000.00; Mrs. Elizabeth Booth, $1,000.00; Emily Doane, $1,000.00; Hunt, $1,000.00; J. Lewis, $1,000.00; Mack, $1,000.00; Mrs. Mina C. Pfennig, $1,000.00; Dennis Warner, $1,000.00; Eli Corwin, $1,000.00; Hubbell, $1,000.00; Hendrick, $1,000.00; C. L. Tank, $1,000.00; R. G. Peters, $1,000.00; G. D. Colton, $1,000.00; Jones, $1,000.00; Shipherd, $1,000.00; Agard, $1,000.00; Foster, $800.00; Wisconsin, $419.00; Edsell, $500.00.

CONGREGATIONAL EDUCATION SOCIETY AND PASTORAL APPOINTMENTS.

1. Aid by loan or grant, additional to that pledged by the Seminary, ranging from $50 to $75, is furnished by the Congregational Education Society, when their funds permit, to students who are members of Congregational churches. Applications for appropriations may be made to the representatives of the Society at the Seminary the first week in October, but only such as are officially notified by the officers of the Society of the acceptance of their applications should expect to receive the appropriation. Professors Taylor, Curtiss, and Scott and Dr. Savage constitute the committee representing the Society.

2. Applications for pastoral and missionary appointments should be made directly to Rev. J. C. Armstrong, D.D., Superintendent of Cicago City Missionary Society (151 Washington St., Chicago); or to Rev. James Tompkins, D.D., Superintendent of the Illinois Home Missionary Society (153 La Salle St., Chicago); but no student is permitted to assume charge of a church without special permission from the Faculty.

Note—The Seminary cannot hold itself pecuniarily responsible to make up deficiencies from whatever cause in the annual appropriations of the Congregational Education Society.

PLAN OF INSTRUCTION.

UNDERGRADUATE COURSES.

Instruction is given in the following departments: Theological Encyclopædia, Old Testament Introduction, Old Testament Interpretation, Old Testament Theology, Hebrew Language, Cognate Semitic Languages, History of Israel, Interpretation of the Old Testament in English, Comparative Religion, New Testament Introduction, New Testament Interpretation, New Testament Biography, New Testament Theology, Ecclesiastical History, Missions, Philosophy of Religion, Apologetics, Dogmatics, Christian Ethics, Homiletics, Pulpit of Different Countries, Public Prayer, Elocution and Oratory, Liturgics, Church Music, Expression of Religious Thought in Literature, Congregational History, Church Polity, Christian Sociology, Pastoral Theology, Social Economics, Use of the English Bible in Evangelistic Work, Field Work, and Physical Culture.

The courses in these departments fall into two classes, prescribed and elective. The prescribed studies include the essentials of a theological education as a preparation for the practical work of the ministry. The electives cover a larger range of topics and give opportunity for further study in each department. Their purpose is to enable students to specialize as much as practicable without sacrificing the completeness of the Seminary training. Students will find it to their advantage to select certain departments early in their course and choose their electives along those lines.

The electives, unless otherwise designated, are open to all students in the Seminary, and, as a rule, the same subject is repeated but once in two years. In the following outline of work the electives for a period of two years are given. Electives are not open to Juniors during the first and second periods.

GRADUATE COURSES.

Graduate courses are offered in Old Testament Theology, Assyrian Language and History, New Testament Theology, Church History, Philosophy of Religion and Apologetics, and Sociology.

A candidate for the degree of Ph.D, must select three departments of study, one of which shall be a major and the other two minors. His work must be under the supervision of the professors of those departments, and unless otherwise ordered, must include six hours of attendance upon lectures a week.

Students not candidates for the degree of Ph.D. may take any studies of the graduate courses if judged by the Faculty qualified to pursue them

MATRICULATION AND CLASS ATTENDANCE.

MODE OF ADMISSION.

Committee on Matriculation—PROFESSORS SCOTT, GILBERT AND TAYLOR.

1. The candidate must present his testimonials to the Committee on Matriculation, and receive a certificate accordingly. The committee meets for the examination of the testimonials of new students Wednesday afternoon, September 26, at 2 o'clock, in the President's office.

2. The candidate must then present his certificate to the Treasurer of the Seminary and pay the dues for the period.

3. Students, including those in the graduate department, who have once matriculated must secure cards of registration from the Registrar at the opening of each Seminary Year. All class lists are made up from the Registrar's books.

4. Students who intend to enter the Seminary should secure, before the opening of the term, application blanks from the Secretary of the Faculty, Professor H. M. Scott, 520 West Adams Street, and these, when filled out, should be returned to him.

REPORTS AND CLASS OFFICERS.

Faithful attendance upon all exercises of the Seminary, including daily service in the chapel and the Thursday afternoon address, is required of all students. Necessary absences should be reported. The following directions and principles should be noted :

1. Absences from the regular lectures must be reported to the professors in charge. Unexcused absences are counted as failures in recitation.

2. Absence from the gymnasium should be reported to the gymnasium instructor.

3. All students engaged in field work, or preaching, are required to make weekly written reports to the professor in charge of that department.

4. Excuses for absence from the daily exercises in chapel and requests for leaving the city should be made to the class officers. Permission for absence should be obtained beforehand if possible. The class officers for the different classes are :

Senior Class—PRESIDENT FISK.

Middle Class—PROFESSOR SCOTT.

Junior Class—PROFESSOR CHAMBERLAIN.

5. Students in the foreign courses report to the head professor in their respective departments.

6. Students desiring to assume charge of churches must obtain permission from the Faculty.

7. All applications for letters of dismissal or certificates of work done in the Seminary should be sent to the Registrar.

8. Students who for any reason are unable to return to the Seminary at the close of a vacation, and those who are obliged to leave the Seminary during the term, will confer a favor if they will give to the Registrar the reason for the interruption of their course. Such reason will, if desired, be regarded as strictly private.

GRADES.

A grade of sixty-five per cent. is required to pass in any subject. One who falls below this is conditioned. One whose average in all departments falls below sixty per cent. is not retained in the Seminary. A grade of seventy-five per cent. must be secured, in order to pass in the special examinations for the degree of B. D.

LIBRARY AND MUSEUM.

HAMMOND LIBRARY.

Librarian—MR. HERBERT WRIGHT GATES.

Library Committee—PROFESSORS HARPER, CURTISS AND GILBERT.

The Hammond Library, so-named from the donor of the building, the late Col. C. G. Hammond, of the New England Church, is primarily for the use of Faculty and students of the Seminary, though a cordial invitation is extended to clergymen and other friends of the Seminary to avail themselves of its privileges.

The library contains about twenty thousand volumes, besides a large assortment of periodical literature, both religious and secular, and is constantly receiving additions of new works in all departments of theological literature. The interior of the building is divided into rooms for the various departments of the theological study, Exegetical, Historical, Systematic and Practical Theology and Sociology, the Alcove of Missionary Intelligence and the Library for the foreign departments. The object is to combine, as far as possible, the advantages of a general reference library with those of special libraries for seminary work.

The privilege of drawing books is extended to students and friends of the Seminary with the utmost possible freedom, subject only to such regulations as are necessary for the best interests of all. The library is, however, primarily a reference library for the use of the Faculty and students of the Seminary, and the librarian always reserves the right to call in any book loaned, whether due or not, in case it should be needed for class reference work. Books reserved for reference work cannot be drawn during library hours.

The Reading Room, No. 112 Fisk Hall, is furnished with the leading Chicago and New York dailies, and religious weeklies representing several different denominations. This room is open to students at all hours.

A department of music has been established in connection with the work of Professor Chamberlain. Besides standard works on music and hymnology, this department comprises a collection of vocal music suitable for the work of the chorus class formed by Professor Chamberlain. Through the generosity of Silas M. Moore, Esq., of the Kenwood Evangelical Church, a fund has been provided, the income of which will be largely devoted to the purchase of works for this and other branches of Practical Theology.

Grateful acknowledgment is due to the friends who have so generously manifested their interest in this part of the Seminary's work. The following endowment funds have been presented to the library:

John Blatchford Mem. Ref. Library Fund.....	$10,000.00
George H. Wells Library Fund.....	10,000 00
Gates Alcove of Miss. Intelligence.....	5,000.00
Philo Carpenter Alcove Library Fund.....	5,000.00
E. S. Jones Alcove Library Fund.....	5,000.00
J. T. Hyde Alcove Library Fund.....	1,000.00
Chas. Walker Library Fund.....	1,000.00
S. M. Moore Library Fund.....	3,000.00
Alumni Library Fund.....	1,000.00
E. M. Williams Library Fund.....	2,500.00
Patton Binding Fund.....	1,000.00

Two notable collections, one on Egyptology, the gift of Rev. E. M. Williams, D.D., and one on the rise of Congregationalism, presented by Rev. F. W. Gunsaulus, D.D., are attractions of rare value to the specialist in these subjects. A complete set of the Collections and Proceedings of the Massachusetts Historical Society will also be found of value to the student of early American church history.

HAMMOND LIBRARY.

CARPENTER HALL AND CHAPEL.

The Gates Alcove of Missionary Intelligence contains about fifteen hundred works on the history of missions, and mission lands and peoples with their religions. Large additions are being made to this collection, which already offers excellent opportunities for special work in the history of missions. A valuable collection of documents, comprising the papers and addresses of the World's Congress on Africa, has been added to this department by the gift of Frederic Perry Noble, Ph.D., the Secretary of that Congress. Members of missionary societies, or any who are interested in mission work are cordially invited to make use of this department of the library.

It is the aim and constant effort of the committee to procure, as far as possible, all works of real value which may appear in the various fields of theological research, and thus to make the library of the greatest possible usefulness to students and friends of the Seminary. All possible information and aid will be gladly rendered to students by the librarian and assistant librarian.

MUSEUM OF CHRISTIAN ANTIQUITY.

A beginning has been made of a museum for objects illustrating the history of the church. The Congregational exhibit, which secured the highest medal at the World's Columbian Exposition has been presented to the Seminary. It contains portraits of eminent congregationalists, charts setting forth the work of our churches, and photographs of our colleges and other institutions of learning. Its unique value, however, marking it as first among church exhibits, consists in the intimate connection shown in its annals between our denomination and the development of the republic throughout its history.

A recent addition to this collection has been made by Professor Samuel Ives Curtiss, D.D., consisting of about four hundred coins dating from the second century B.C. to the sixth century A.D. These comprise a very valuable collection of Palestine, Jewish, Herodian, and Roman coins, many of them of great rarity. These coins were read and classified by Rev. Selah Merrill, LL.D.,

United States Consul at Jerusalem. Professor Curtiss has also presented a number of antique lamps and images from various points in the Holy Land.

It is to be hoped that this collection may soon be enlarged so as to cover the field of the Church Universal.

BUILDINGS AND EXPENSES.

LOCATION.

The Seminary is situated on Ashland Boulevard, opposite Union Park, in the West Division of the city. Its location in this metropolis of the Interior is an important feature of its advantages. The students have constant opportunity to hear preachers of national reputation, to study the most successful methods of church work, especially as related to the problems of city evangelization, and also to observe the social and economic movements of our times. Here, too, young men of different nationalities may engage in missionary work among their own people, thus combining practical with theoretical training. It is thought that the value of a theological education is greatly enhanced by the improvement of such privileges as are furnished in an eminent degree by our location in this metropolis.

DORMITORY BUILDINGS.

Fisk Hall, erected in 1889-1890, was opened for occupancy in 1891. On the first floor are four large lecture rooms, Professors' studies, rooms for the President, Secretary and Treasurer, a reception room and a parlor. In the basement are bathrooms and a bowling alley, and in the fifth story is a gymnasium. The second, third, and fourth floors contain ninety-seven suites of rooms for students, viz., thirty-seven suites consisting each of a study and two bedrooms for two students, and sixty consisting each of a study and a bedroom for one student—in all providing accommodations for one hundred and thirty-four students. These suites of rooms are finished in hard wood and are furnished throughout in a uniform manner with new, substantial, and abundant furniture, including bedclothes and towels, and everything needed to render them comfortable and pleasant. These rooms, as also the other parts of the building, are heated by hot water and lighted by gas.

Keyes Hall contains ten suites of rooms providing accommodations for ten students and their wives, with facilities for house-keeping. For terms apply to the Treasurer.

Carpenter Hall, besides Carpenter Chapel and two lecture rooms, contains nineteen suites of rooms for thirty-eight students. The rooms of these two buildings are furnished throughout with all needed furniture.

GYMNASIUM.

There is a gymnasium in Fisk Hall fully equipped with all the apparatus needed for both light and heavy gymnastics. The gymnasium was furnished by twelve physicians of Chicago.

ROOMS.

No charge is made to students for rent of rooms in Fisk Hall. For incidentals, care of students' rooms, including washing of bedding and towels, fuel and light, $2.00 per week is charged for a suite of three rooms occupied by one or two students, and $1.25 per week for a suite of two rooms occupied by one student. Drawing for choice of rooms will take place Wednesday, September 26, 1900, at 11 A. M.

EXPENSES.

The necessary expenses for the Seminary year are about as follows:

Care of Room, Single Suite, First Period	$12.50
Care of Room, Single Suite, Second Period	13.75
Care of Room, Single Suite, Third Period.	13.75
Board, 32 Weeks at $3	96.00
Text-books	20.00
Laundry, 32 Weeks	19.00
	$175.00

An incidental charge of $1.67 each period is made to students who do not occupy rooms in Fisk Hall. Charges for care of rooms and incidentals are payable in advance at the beginning of each period.

DEVOTIONAL EXERCISES, MISSIONS, ADDRESSES.

WORSHIP.

The Faculty and students meet at noon on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday for devotional services. The services are conducted by the members of the Board of Instruction in turn.

Weekly prayer meetings are held by each of the classes, and also by the foreign departments in the Seminary.

A prayer and conference meeting of the professors and students is held on the first Thursday of each month at 4 o'clock.

MISSIONS.

The missionary spirit has been from the first, prevalent in the Seminary. Large numbers of its graduates have gone into mission fields—home and foreign. About sixty missionaries to foreign fields have gone forth from the Seminary, of whom one was from the German department, three were from the Danish-Norwegian, and thirteen from the Swedish.

The Mission Study Class, which at present numbers twenty-five members, holds weekly meetings for missionary study. The courses of study which are pursued by the Class this year are "Japan" and "Medical Missions." Articles on Missionary subjects are given by different members of the Class in turn.

Missionary Volunteers are frequently called upon to speak in churches and Christian Endeavor societies upon Foreign Missions.

Students of the Seminary, with the coöperation of the Faculty, contribute about $500 annually through the A. B. C. F. M. for the support of Rev. Charles N. Ransom, their missionary to the Zulus. Mr. Ransom was graduated from the Seminary in 1889.

A NEW DEPARTURE IN MISSIONARY INSTRUCTION.

It is expected that the new plan for Missionary instruction in the Seminary will go into effect the coming year. The plan is briefly as follows:

1. The instruction is to be given by eminently successful missionaries who are in active service in the home and foreign field.
2. They will give courses, prescribed and elective, through periods of five or ten weeks each year.

The aim will be to have the lecturers come into as close personal contact with the entire student body as possible, thus securing inspiration for Missionary work as well as theoretical and practical instruction.

The first course of lectures under this plan will be given in the year 1900-1901. The lecturers will be duly announced.

OCCASIONAL ADDRESSES.

In addition to the Lecture Courses of the Seminary, addresses are given, from time to time, by eminent clergymen, foreign missionaries, editors, physicians and specialists in various departments of social and philanthropic work.

The following speakers addressed the students during the year 1899-1900:

PROF. A. R. JERNBERG, Opening Address: The Power of Loyalty to the Scriptures.

PROF. S. I. CURTISS, D.D.: Missions in the Orient.

REV. HENRY FAVILLE, Pastor of the Congregational Church, LaCrosse, Wisconsin: The Preaching Desired by the People of To-day.

R. J. BENNETT, Esq., of Chicago: The Hawaiian Islands. Illustrated by Stereopticon Views.

REV. GEO. R. LEAVITT, Pastor of the First Congregational Church, Beloit, Wisconsin: Sources of Missionary Motive.

REV. W. F. McMILLEN, District Secretary, Congregational Sunday School and Publishing Society, two lectures: The Relation of the Pastor to the Sunday School, and The Twentieth Century Sunday School.

JAMES MORTON, Esq.: Work of the Church and the Ministry from the View Point of a Radical.

REV. JOHN G. PATON, Missionary to the New Hebrides: Mission Work in the New Hebrides.

REV. DANIEL BLISS, President of the Syrian Protestant College, Beirut, Syria: Educational Work in Syria.

REV. GEO. H. BIRD, Pastor of the Congregational Church, South Chicago: The Cultivation of the Spiritual Life.

REV. GEORGE L. McNUTT, Minister of the Presbyterian Church: The Minister and the working men.

PROF. JAMES P. McNAUGHTON, Principal of the Protestant Boys School Smyrna: Mission Work in Asia Minor.

OUTLINE OF COURSES OF INSTRUCTION.

UNDERGRADUATE COURSES.

THEOLOGICAL ENCYCLOPÆDIA.

Professor Scott.

Theological Propædeutics, or introduction to a course of theological study. This course discusses conversion, call to the ministry, liberal education, non-christian religions, and the chief branches of christian theology with literary notices.

First period of Junior year, two hours a week.

DEPARTMENT OF OLD TESTAMENT LITERATURE AND INTERPRETATION.

Professor Curtiss.

I. Sight-Reading in Hebrew.

Courses in sight-reading, if faithfully taken, will enable students to have a working use of their Hebrew Bibles, so that no graduate of Chicago Theological Seminary, with fair linguistic gifts, need confess that he has made no use of his Hebrew Bible since graduation. They can be privately arranged by application to Professor Curtiss.

II. Old Testament Introduction.

This department is designed to give a clear view of the origin, history, literary character and object of the Old Testament books, and to set before the students the bearing of current criticism on their authority as the word of God.

1. Lectures on the transmission of the Old Testament Text; a history of manuscripts with illustrations, ancient versions, and the formation of the Canon.

Second period of Middle year, once a week.

2. Lectures on the origin and literary character of the Old Testament books.

Third period of Middle year, twice a week.

3. Lectures on the geography of Syria, Palestine and the Sinaitic Peninsula, with stereopticon views.
Second period 1899-1900, twice a week. Elective.
4. Lectures on the manners, customs, and antiquities of Israel.
Second period 1900-1901, twice a week. Elective.

III. Old Testament Interpretation.

The object of this department is to set forth the original meaning of the Hebrew Scriptures, with reference to the people for whom they were first composed. This involves, as far as possible, the historical setting of the books.

1. Exposition of selected psalms.
Second period of Middle year, four times a week.
2. Exposition of selected passages from First Isaiah.
Third period of Middle year, three times a week.
3. Lectures on Second Isaiah.
First period, 1900-1901, twice a week. Elective.
4. Lectures on the Book of Job.
First period, 1901-1902, twice a week. Elective.

IV. Old Testament Theology.

In this department the effort is made to trace by periods in a historical way, the development of religion among the Israelites, as conditioned by its successive stages in their national history and God's progressive revelation.

1. Lectures on the preparation for the coming and mission of Christ in Old Testament Prophecy.
Third period, 1899-1900, twice a week. Elective.
2. Lectures on the preparation for a conception of the office and work of Christ, as indicated in the legal codes.

II. The Cognate Semitic Languages.

An elective in beginning Aramaic, Assyrian or Arabic will be offered in the second period of each year. Advanced work in these languages, and also in Syriac and Ethiopic will be given in any term at the request of students. Each course will include lectures on the history of the literature, and students who elect this department will find the field of Old Testament history and introduction largely covered in addition to the knowledge acquired of the languages cognate to the Hebrew.

1. Arabic. A study of the principles of the language by the inductive method, together with the reading of selections from the Koran.

Second period, 1899-1900, two hours a week. Elective.

2. Assyrian syllabary, principles of the grammar, reading of easy historical texts. Lectures on the history of Assyria and Israel.

Second period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

3. Biblical Aramaic, with lectures on the literature of the language and a historical study of the Book of Daniel.

Second period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.

III. Normal Lessons in the Historical Study of the Old Testament.

This department covers the political, social and economic history of Israel to the time of the Maccabees. Special attention is given to the philosophy of history and the development of institutions, thus furnishing a basis for the study of Old Testament theology. It includes the geography of Palestine and the history of the surrounding nations where they throw light on that of Israel. The work is based on Old Testament criticism and aims to teach the correct methods of using the Bible materials in constructing the history of Israel. The work is normal in character, and special attention is paid to teaching the English Old Testament by the historical method.

1. The period of the prophets, including the history from the division of the kingdom to the exile.

First period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

2. The post-exilic period, including the history from the exile to the time of the Maccabees.

First period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.

3. History of Israel from the conquest of Canaan to the kingdom of David and Solomon, with studies on the history of the tribes before the conquest and the patriarchal narratives.

First period, 1902-1903, two hours a week. Elective.

V. Comparative Religion.

1. Introduction to the study of Comparative Religion. Special study of several of the great religions of the world, including the religions of Babylonia, Egypt and the Semitic tribes, and the light they throw on the religion of Israel. Discussion of the origin of religion and other problems connected with the scientific study of religion.

Junior year, third period, four hours a week.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 10-11 a. m.

THE NEW TESTAMENT DEPARTMENT.

Professor Gilbert.

I. New Testament Introduction.

Lectures on New Testament Introduction, including (a) a history of the manuscripts and the versions, (b) special introduction to the various writings of the New Testament, and (c) the formation of the Canon.

Third period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

II. New Testament Interpretation.

The aim of the work in this department is threefold: (a) To secure a knowledge of the New Testament Greek idiom; (b) to get a practical acquaintance with the principles of exegesis; and (c) to make a critical study of as much of the New Testament as possible. In other words, the primary aim is to train men to be scientific interpreters of the New Testament.

COURSES.

1. An historical and critical exegesis of the Gospel according to Mark, with special attention to the peculiarities of New Testament Greek. A printed outline of the course is used.

Junior year, second period.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9-10 a. m.

2. An historical and critical exegesis of the Fourth Gospel.

Junior year, third period.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9-10 a. m.

3. An historical and critical exegesis of the Epistle to the Romans,

Middle year, first period.

Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 9-10 a. m.

III. New Testament Biography.

1. The life and work of Paul.

Second period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

2. The life of Christ with special reference to modern investigation and criticism.

First period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

IV. New Testament Theology.

Biblical Theology of the New Testament aims to give an historical presentation of the contents of the New Testament writings. As historical, it recognizes (a) the different types of teaching; (b) the development of doctrine; and (c) the proportions of the different teachings.

COURSES.

1. New Testament Theology, Part I.; The Revelation of Jesus.
First period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.
2. New Testament Theology, Part II. a: The Teaching of Paul.

SYSTEMATIC THEOLOGY.

Professor Mackenzie.

I. Philosophy of Religion.

Under this section of the department of Systematic Theology are discussed the general idea of religion, the origin of religion, the history of the various philosophical theories of God and man and nature in their essential qualities and mutual relations.

1. An introduction to the Philosophy of Religion.

First period, 1899-1900, two hours a week. Elective.

2. The Philosophy of Kant.

First period 1900-1901. Seminar.

II. Apologetics.

This course indicates a discussion of apologetic methods employed in various periods by the defenders of Christianity, and aims at presenting a systematic apologetic in view of the main controversies of the present day. This involves a study of the theories of evolution, the miraculous element in the Gospel story, the consciousness of Christ, the foundations of the Christian Church upon faith in the risen Christ, the Christian view of God in distinction from materialistic, pantheistic and deistic philosophies.

1. The Apologetic system.

Middle year, second period, five hours a week.

2. Theism.

Third period, 1900-1901, two hours, Elective.

III. Dogmatics.

The course in Dogmatics is intended to present a systematic discussion of the doctrines of the Christian Church. To do this adequately the roots of each doctrine are sought for in the apostles' experience of Christ, as that is presented to us both in the Gospels and in the Epistles. Crucial discussions of the various doctrines which have taken place in the history of the Church, are referred to for guidance and illustration in reaching satisfactory conclusions thereupon.

Part I. After introductory sections the course passes to the Christian Doctrine of God. This is discussed in two main divisions. First, the revelation of God is considered, as that has taken place in nature, in the general history of religion, in a specific manner to Israel, and as it has been consummated in Jesus Christ. The process by which the Christian idea of God became differentiated from monotheism is traced through the consciousness of Christ, the religious experience of the apostles, and in the resulting Christology and Theology. The second division discusses the nature of Him who is thus revealed through Christ and in Christian experience, as the absolute Ground and Cause of all things, as the Absolute Personality and as the Triune. Further, His attributes and the supreme ends of His activity are investigated.

Part II. The course now passes to the Christian doctrine of the kingdom of God or the manifestation of His glory. The living God is Lord of all His works, and His creation, sustenance, and control of them to His own final end, is His true δόξα or glory.

(1) The idea of the kingdom of God in its widest sense is discussed, including the creation and sustenance of the realm of nature, wherein and to some extent whereby the kingdom is to be realized, the creation of intelligent beings who are to form that kingdom, and the providential guiding of their history, religious, ethical and social. (2) The negation of that kingdom by the intrusion of sin with its attendant evil consequences. This antagonism to the glory of God is investigated, as to its nature, its conditions, and its effects on man and on God. (3) The kingdom of God founded on the earth: (a) Preparations for it, negatively by heathen history, positively in Israel. (b) Its actual foundation in the person of the Man Jesus, who was at once its first subject and its Lord. His revelation, through His own experience, teaching and works, of the nature and blessings of that kingdom. The study of the self-consciousness of Jesus in connection with the problem of His person as the incarnate Logos is pursued. That problem is further investigated, biblically, historically and dogmatically. (4) The kingdom opened unto man. The question how Jesus made it possible for a man to enter the kingdom, founded in Himself, involves the whole doctrine of reconciliation. The problem of the atonement or influence of the obedience and death of Christ on the mutual relations of God and man is studied in the light of His person, His self-consciousness and the experience of the apostles. The history of the doctrine is discussed. (5) The kingdom realized among men: (a) The descent of the Spirit of Christ as the means of bringing men consciously and evidently into the kingdom opened for mankind by Jesus Christ. The nature and influences of the Holy Spirit are investigated and the methods employed by Him for His purpose. (b) As to the individual man, his call, his pardon, new creation and the process of his moral perfecting are investigated along with the conditions and means which must be fulfilled and employed by the human subject of these divine acts and processes. (c) As to the community of saints upon earth, the origin of the Church of Christ is traced. The instruments put into the hands of the Church, viz., the Bible, the ordinances, the various forms of spiritual ministry, are investigated along with the various problems which they involve as to inspiration, church government, sacramental grace, ordination, worship, creeds, discipline, etc. The relation of the Church to the world as a whole, to society, and to the State are studied from the dogmatic standpoint. (6) The kingdom consummated. Under this head are discussed the problems relating to the "last things." Death, and the resurrection, intermediate state, final judgment and final destiny of individuals resulting in that complete redeemed humanity which God in the beginning purposed to create in Christ Jesus.

1. The first portion of the course as sketched above, down to the end of the second section of Part II.
Senior year. First period. Five hours a week.
2. The second portion of the course as sketched above.
Senior year. Third period. Five hours a week.
3. The Doctrines of the Incarnation.
Second Period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.
4. The Self-Consciousness of Jesus as the basis of the doctrines of His person and work.
Second period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.
5. The idea of the Church at several periods of Church History and in the principal denominations of to-day.
Elective.

IV. Christian Ethics.

The various portions of this subject will be treated from time to time in elective courses.

An Introduction to Christian Ethics.

Third period, 1899-1900, two hours a week. Elective.

DEPARTMENT OF SACRED RHETORIC.

President Fisk.

In the department of Homiletics it is the aim to prepare a student, as far as possible, to preach the gospel effectively. The courses combine both theory and practice, together with lectures on eminent preachers, and the history of preaching.

The middle year is devoted to the analysis and synthesis of a sermon and a discussion of each of its principal parts, with practical exercises in making plans—topical, textual, inferential and expository.

In the senior year, much attention is given to practical exercises in preaching before the class. Each member of the class also prepares a sermon for private criticism by the professor. In connection with this work, volumes of sermons by eminent preachers are studied by the class. Three courses of lectures are delivered, during the period of three years, on eminent preachers of different nationalities, together with a study of them by the class.

COURSE OF STUDY.

1. Analysis and synthesis of a sermon, and exercises in making and criticising plans of sermons—topical, textual, inferential and expository—with private criticism of plans.

Middle year, first period.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 11-12 a. m.

2. Sermons and plans by the class, criticised both in the class-room and in private. Delivery of written and unwritten sermons by members of the class. Critical examination of volumes of discourses by eminent preachers. Public prayer—the matter and the manner.

Senior year, third period.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 11-12 a. m.

3. Study of the Scottish pulpit.
Second period, 1898-1899, two hours a week. Elective.
4. Study of the American pulpit.
Second period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.
5. Study of the English pulpit.
Second period, 1899-1900, two hours a week. Elective.

DEPARTMENT OF EXPRESSION.

Professor Chamberlain.

This department constitutes a special field in the great domain of Practical Theology. It covers a group of mutually related subjects, subdivided into specific courses of study, which together are designed to cultivate the faculties of perception, logical discrimination and taste in expression, and not less the emotional and volitional power needed by the orator.

The attainment of this end means not simply the imparting of rules and methods, nor merely the correction of personal faults by criticism; it seeks the development of the man himself, and especially the securing of such habits and conditions, psychological, physiological, æsthetic and literary, as shall induce healthy, versatile, vigorous communication of thought as the natural manifestation of a free but cultured personality.

I. Elocution.—ESSENTIALS OF EXPRESSION.

This course in general elocution is designed to give the psychological and physiological basis of interpretation, presenting the relations of mind, body and voice as concerned in speech.

1. The work on its literary side consists of text-book study, supplemented by analysis, paraphrasing and the critical rendering of selections.
2. On the physical side it includes:
 - a. Expressional gymnastics, designed to secure poise, good bearing and expressiveness of the entire body; and
 - b. Voice culture, treating of the functions of chest, throat and mouth in speaking, hygienic care of the voice, the development of flexibility, resonance, volume and varying "tone-colors" or qualities, symbolic of corresponding properties of thought and feeling.

Junior year, first period. Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 11-12 a. m.

II. Oratory.

1. Delivery of sermons. Expressional analysis of sermons and sermonic extracts, original and selected. Passages rendered with and without notes; training in concentration, judgment, memory, invention and sympathetic contact with an audience.

Senior year, third period. Part of the prescribed course.

2. Study of models in oratory, with reports on contemporaneous sermons and speeches.

First period, 1901-1902, and each alternate year, two hours. Elective.

3. Extemporaneous speaking. Subject, theme, divisions, subdivisions, paragraphs, sentence structure and word-choosing are studied practically before an audience. The aim is to give the student self-control, logical memory, grasp of outline, rapid invention and all that is included in the power of "thinking on one's feet."

First period, 1900-1901, and each alternate year, two hours a week. Elective.

III. Liturgics.

1. Conduct of public worship.

a. Scripture reading, based on literary form, as descriptive, narrative, expository, argumentative, persuasive, poetic of various types, and on the special use, as exegetic, liturgic, homiletic.

LECTURE ROOM, FISK HALL.

b. Hymnology. Study of the authorship and history of hymns; their doctrinal content or bearing; their emotional and volitional qualities; their adaptation to definite uses, as indicated by subject, occasion and purpose; study of the laws of poetic diction, as revealed in the best hymns; prose paraphrase; composition of hymns; public reading of hymns.

c. Choir music. Discussion of voluntaries, anthems, chants, responses, solos, etc., in their relations to the other parts of the service, and the minister's relation to the church music and musicians.

d. Paraphrase of Bible prayers, with reference to the uses of public and pastoral prayer. Expression in public prayer.

e. Adaptation of different parts of the service to each other, and to the sermon; formation of programs and "orders of service" for various occasions and purposes.

Senior year, second period. Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 11-12 a. m.

2. History and province of liturgics, with studies in the great historic liturgies.

Second period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.

3. A critical study of hymns, with reference to the trend of theological thought and religious experience as shown in the hymnody of different periods.

Third period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.

V. Music.

1. Elementary vocal music. Training in relative pitch, recognition of the principal chords, rhythms, modulation or transition of key, sight-reading in both the tonic sol-fa and the staff notation.

Elective. First period of each year, two hours a week. Two hours credited as one hour.

2. Church music. Rhythm, tempo, the general melodic and harmonic structure of tunes, and their adaptation to hymns; the practical singing of hymns, with instruction in "starting" tunes and in leading congregational singing; analysis and rendering of easy anthems.

Second period, each year. Two hours counting as one. Elective.

3. Choir practice. Advanced vocal training; study and rendition of part songs and male-voice choruses. The choir sings in chapel services.

Students are admitted to this course by examination.

Each period, each year. Two hours credited as one hour.

V. Expression of Religious Thought in Literature.

1. Faith, hope and love in Tennyson.

Third period, 1899-1900, two hours a week. Elective.

2. Spiritual teachings of Robert Browning.
Third period, 1900-1901, two hours a week. Elective.
3. Conscience in Shakespeare.
Third period, 1901-1902, two hours a week. Elective.

VI. Personal Criticism.

1. First period, each year, special hours are reserved for the Junior class, in connection with their course in Elocution.
2. Second period, each year, special hours are reserved for the Senior class, in connection with their course in Liturgics.
3. Third period, each year, special appointments are made with members of the Senior class, in connection with preaching exercises in the department of Homiletics.

CONGREGATIONAL HISTORY AND CHURCH POLITY.

Professor Willcox.

I. English New Testament and New Testament Doctrine.

1. Teaching of the Gospels and Epistles.
Junior year, second period, five hours a week. Third period, five hours a week.
2. Epistles of Paul continued.
Middle year, first period, five hours a week.

II. Church Polity.

Congregational church polity.

Senior year, second period, one hour a week.

CHRISTIAN SOCIOLOGY AND PASTORAL THEOLOGY.

Professor Taylor.

The province of the department is defined by that of the sociological sciences to be two-fold. Under the term Sociology, society is viewed as a whole, and the scientific observation, classification, relationship and significance of its fundamental phenomena are taught. Under the group-title Social Economics, the sciences devoted to the specific structures and institutions of family, industrial, commercial, political and ecclesiastical life, and to the social classes and conditions to which they give rise, are in turn the subject of study. The Christian aspects of the sociological sciences are kept in view by demonstrating the essential relations of the ideals, forces and facts of Christianity to social phenomena and progress.

1. Biblical Sociology. The inductive study of the social phenomena of the scriptures and the Biblical development of the kingdom of God.
Junior year, first period.
Thursday and Friday, 10-11 a. m.

2. Economics of the Kingdom, pedagogical, evangelistic, social. Reserving Social Economics for the elective courses, this course is devoted to the Biblical basis, historical development, fundamental principles and practical methods of Christian nurture and evangelistic work, with their specific application to the city center, the country town and the foreign field.

Junior year, third period.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 11-12 a. m.

NOTE. THE USE OF THE ENGLISH BIBLE. Special instruction and drill are given in the above courses in the use of the English Bible, viz., its devotional use for the culture of spiritual life, its pedagogical use in the educational work of the church; its evangelistic use in services, inquiry meetings and personal work with individuals.

3. Sociology—the study of social phenomena for the nature, structure, design, progress and dynamics of the social organism, and the fundamental relationship involved with the individual, the kingdom and the church.

Senior year, second period.

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, 10-11 a. m.

4. Pastoral Theology. The personal and corporate means for realizing the divine ideals of life, individual and social, with special emphasis upon ministerial functions of the church, the organic relation of the minister's duties thereto, the unity of parish administration, and the most practical methods of pastoral work.

Senior year, second period, 10-11 a. m.

5. Social Economics—Elective courses.

- (1). The Ethics of the Labor Movement.

First period, 1899-1900. Two hours.

- (2). Seminar in Sociology for Seniors and Graduates.

Second period, 1899-1900. One hour.

- (3). Theories of Social Order.

Third period, 1899-1900. Two hours.

- (4). The Family, its historical development and social function.

First period, 1900-1901. Two hours.

- (5). Pauperism and poverty, public relief and private charity.

Second period, 1900-1901. Two hours.

- (6). Social reform movements and methods, dealing with impurity, gambling and intemperance.

Third period, 1900-1901.

- (7). Penology—the nature of crime; its preventive, reformatory and restorative treatment.

Third period, 1900-1901.

NOTE 1.—The regular instructions in these courses is supplemented by occasional conferences with eminent specialists, and by attendance upon special occasions for the discussion of these subjects frequently occurring in the city.

NOTE 2.—Courses in this department are open to visitors, who, upon the acceptance of their application by the professor, will be enrolled as regular attendants, and given special attention outside of lecture hours.

FIELD WORK.

Purpose and Assignments.

The field work is an educational adjunct to the class-room instruction and essential to the training for the work of the ministry. Each student is therefore assigned to appointment under the supervision of the department of Christian Sociology, and is required to render to the professor in charge weekly reports of the same.

Every care is taken in each case to consult personal preference; to adjust the work to the student's need and aim, and to make the field work tributary to spiritual and educational development. The work of the field, however, is strictly restricted to such limits as forbid its encroachment upon the time and strength demanded by scholarship and health. On this account only such students are permitted to be in pastoral charge, or to preach regularly, as the Faculty judge to be specially warranted in assuming the severe exactions of the double task. The regulations of the Seminary, therefore, require students to obtain the special permission of the Faculty to continue in or assume pastoral charge, or preaching engagements during the study terms. All receiving such permission are required to report their work each week to the professor under whose supervision it is placed.

In addition to private interviews at office hours, group and general conferences are held for fraternal interchange of experience on the field and to confer with specialists in many lines of social effort and Church work.

GRADUATE COURSES.

OLD TESTAMENT THEOLOGY.

Professor Curtiss.

An inductive study of the prophets in their chronological order and their historic setting, with entire reference to the development of the religious teaching of Israel, and the record of God's revelation through the prophets. This will include the reading of the texts in the original.

LANGUAGE AND HISTORY OF ASSYRIA.

Professor Harper.

The course in this department covers (a) the Assyrian grammar and syllabary, (b) reading of a large part of the cuneiform literature, (c) the history of Babylonia and Assyria and their relation to other nations, especially Israel, (d) a good knowledge of Hebrew, Arabic, Aramaic and Syriac. In all the courses the language study is made the basis for the study of the history, religion, social life and institutions of the people.

NEW TESTAMENT THEOLOGY.

Professor Gilbert.

An examination in this department may be had either on the basis of the Gospels or of the Epistles of Paul. The examination calls first for a critical knowledge of the entire Greek text, and second for ability to give a historical statement and analysis of the contents of the text.

ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY.

Professor Scott.

Candidates for the degree of Ph.D. who choose Church History for their major will be expected to pursue a course of reading under the direction of the professor in this department which shall give (1) a good knowledge of the history of the Church in general, and (2) which shall cover exhaustively: (a) Some particular period, or (b) the History of Missions, or (c) the History of Doctrine to the Reformation, or (d) the History of Theology since the Reformation, or (e) the History of Church Organization and Discipline, or (f) Christian Antiquities. Under (2) some familiarity with the sources will be required, and ability to read German is considered very desirable.

PHILOSOPHY OF RELIGION AND APOLOGETICS.

Professor Mackenzie.

Candidates for Ph.D. who choose this as their major will be expected to read thoroughly on the following lines, under the supervision of the professor of this department:

1. The History of the Philosophy of Religion. A general knowledge of the subject is required, and a more thorough knowledge of one system, such as that of Spinoza or Kant or Hegel.
2. The History of Apologetics. (1) Earlier Apologetics. This includes a knowledge of systems and methods, such as those of Origen, Tertullian and Augustine. (2) The Deistic Controversy in England. (3) The Problem of Evolution in its bearing on Christian Faith. (4) The History of Specific Apologies, such as those bearing on "The Inspiration of the Bible," or "The Personality of Jesus."

CHRISTIAN SOCIOLOGY.

Professor Taylor.

1. Biblical Sociology. Scriptural evidences of social design.
2. Sociology. Encyclopedia of Sociology as related to that of theology.
3. Social Economics. Relation of the craft guilds to modern labor unions.

PHYSICAL CULTURE.

Instructor, R. E. Todd, Student of the Physical Department of the Bible Normal College, Springfield, Mass.

Gymnasium Committee—PROFESSORS CHAMBERLAIN, HARPER AND TAYLOR.

All students who room in the Seminary are required to give, at the least, two hours a week to physical training. The required work is in the line of light gymnastics, which, by conquering defects due to over-development of one part of the body at the expense of another, tend to produce a complete physical symmetry. Classes are formed for those who desire heavy gymnastics.

The work is of a normal character, so that the student, upon graduating from the Seminary, may have profitable and interesting classes in his field of work, even without expensive apparatus.

COURSES OF INSTRUCTION FOR FOREIGN STUDENTS.

The course of study in the foreign departments covers three years. It is the aim of the Seminary to fit foreign students for work, both in their native languages and in English, and in pursuance of this aim all students in the Scandinavian department are instructed in the English language, the Junior class having five hours a week and the Middle class three hours. In addition to this, some of the divinity courses, both in the Scandinavian and the German departments, are in English.

COURSE FOR GERMAN STUDENTS.

The German department was organized in 1882 with Rev. Theo. Falk as instructor. It has been the means of fitting many young men for proficient service in one of the most important fields of the ministry, that of German Congregationalism in America. A number of its students have rendered distinguished service in Christian journalism and missionary work. As a rule the students enter this department better prepared than is the case in the other foreign courses in the Seminary. A number of our students have taken their preparatory work in "Wilton German-English College," at Wilton Junction, Iowa, and a special course adapted to the needs of students contemplating a German theological training at the Seminary is there provided.

Field work, including preaching, Sunday-school teaching, and visiting is furnished all students who evince an ability to do the work advantageously. A special season of prayer is observed every Friday by all members of the department.

We have at present one hundred and thirty-five German Congregational churches and a number of smaller congregations which are not yet identified with us, but are served by our German pastors. In the States of Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, North and South Dakota we have organized German Congregational associations which meet semi-annually in the interests of our German work. In other states we have also a number of German Congregational churches with a promising future.

The Kirchenbote, a weekly paper, is the organ of our German Congregational churches, and the Segensquelle is the German Congregational Sunday-school paper.

A printing-press has been purchased, so that our German Congregational churches now have their own publishing house. Our own church hymn-book was also published last year.

COURSE FOR DANISH-NORWEGIAN STUDENTS.

Professors Jernberg and Grauer.

The course of instruction for Danish-Norwegian students was opened in 1884. Rev. P. C. Trandberg was its first instructor. The expense of starting the work was borne by Mr. H. A. Haugan of the Lincoln Park church. Professor Jernberg became instructor in 1885 and assumed charge of the department in 1890. He is assisted by Professor Grauer, who began work in 1891. Ninety-three students have received instruction in this department during the past thirteen years, of whom thirty-four have graduated. Nearly all of these are pastors of Danish and Norwegian churches in this country.

The Danish-Norwegian students maintain among themselves a weekly meeting for prayer and conference. They have also organized a literary society for the study of Scandinavian literature.

The English language and literature is made a part of regular classroom work during the four years of the Course, so that the students are prepared to use English as well as their native language.

They do field work in connection with the Scandinavian churches and missions in the city, consisting of preaching, teaching in Sunday schools, pastoral visitation and work among the poor. Much good has come from these labors.

Evangelisten, the organ of the Danish and Norwegian Congregational churches in America, is published at the Seminary. This paper is now in the seventh year of its history and finds its way regularly every week into twenty of our Northern and Western states and to Missouri, Louisiana, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, England, South Africa, India, China and Japan. From the beginning this paper has been doing the work of a pioneer missionary.

COURSE FOR SWEDISH STUDENTS.

Professors Risberg and Peterson.

The course of instruction for Swedish students was opened in 1885 with Professor Risberg at its head and fourteen students. It now averages between thirty and forty students, and Professor Risberg is assisted by Professor Peterson in the work of instruction. Two hundred students have received instruction in the department, of whom one hundred and nineteen have graduated. Twelve are missionaries in foreign lands and one hundred and twenty are engaged in preaching in this country and in Europe.

There are ninety Swedish Congregational churches in this country, and besides these the independent Swedish churches, and those belonging to the Swedish Evangelical Mission Union, look to this Seminary for their supply of ministers. The average time they have been in America is seven years. Most of them have only a common school education when they come to the Seminary. The average age of the men is twenty-eight years. Great care is taken that they shall be devoted Christians, with an earnest zeal for the work.

The students hold a Swedish prayer meeting every Tuesday evening, from eight to nine, at which one of the professors is present. They also conduct a debating society which meets every Monday evening, where the students discuss religious and practical questions in connection with the work of the ministry.

Nearly all of the men do regular field work and report once a month to Professor Risberg. Some are pastors, some preach to churches and at mission stations, some do Sunday-school work and house visiting. All work among the Swedes except two who preach to the Finns.

CHICAGO COMMONS.

A SOCIAL SETTLEMENT.

140 North Union Street, at Milwaukee Avenue, West Side.

Established, May, 1894.

From the point of view of the Sociological department the Settlement is to be regarded as a laboratory for social observation, inquiry, contact and induction, where life may be studied at first hand. The plan for this department involved from the outset the establishment of such an adjunct on the field, as essential to the success both of its purpose and method.

Both for the frequent contact of undergraduates with the living problems which confront the Christian ministry, and for the more constant residence, statistical research and original inquiry of graduate students of the Seminary, the Settlement offers a rare opportunity, of which increasing advantage is taken.

As exemplified at Chicago Commons, the Social Settlement consists primarily of a group of people who choose to make their home in that part of the great city where they seem to be most needed, rather than where the neighborhood offers the most of privilege or social prestige. The location is, for the purpose, ideal. Nearly in the center of the Seventeenth Ward, one of the great industrial districts of the city, whose population is left behind in the centrifugal movement toward the suburbs and the prevailing indifference toward those left behind, the Commons looks out upon a community of nearly 30,000 people, of many nationalities, the Scandinavian predominating. Into this great cosmopolitan section, residential, manufacturing, mercantile, the little home group came, moving into a large, old homestead, which seemed providentially stranded there for the purpose and which was leased for a term of five years.

The purpose and personnel of the Settlement have been gradual growths. As defined by the articles of legal incorporation, the purpose of the Settlement is "to provide a center for a higher civic and social life, to initiate and maintain religious, educational and philanthropic enterprises, and to investigate and improve conditions in the industrial districts of Chicago."

The notable fact in the present situation of the Commons is the acquisition of the strategically located site of the old Tabernacle Congregational Church, under a ninety-nine year lease without rental, and the rapidly-progressing erection thereupon of an adequate and attractive building for the joint occupancy of the church and the settlement. This consummation is the outgrowth of the manifestly natural and increasingly intimate cordiality between the settlement and the church. For more than two years Professor Taylor has served gratuitously as pastor of the church, with Rev. Henry J. Condit (Chicago Seminary, 1898), and most of the residents have taken up membership there and co-operate in the varied work. The new building (a sketch of which is given above), will permit a much closer and more effective co-operation without sacrificing the identity or limiting the activity of either. It will provide an ample auditorium, club and lecture rooms, gymnasium, baths, etc., in addition to commodious quarters for the residents of the settlement. The building will cost upward of $50,000, of which thus far enough is in hand to insure at least the enclosure and permanent roofing of the Morgan street wing (including the auditorium), and it is hoped that additional funds will be given to allow the building to proceed without interruption. (A circular, illustrated with plans and picture of the proposed building, may be had upon application at Chicago Commons.)

In addition to this, it is hoped upon some moderate terms to retain the present building, the lease of which expires May 1, 1900, so as to conserve the present local work in this desperately needy section of the ward.

The Commons has thus far been distinct among settlements in the continuous residence of families. At present there are three family groups. There are in residence twenty-five adults, men and women being equally divided. Of forty non-resident volunteer workers, several are Seminary students, and the remainder are business men, women and young ladies from various churches and other constituencies of the city and suburbs.

The management of the Settlement, both as to the interior home life and in the corporation which holds the household and other property, is kept as informal and personal as is consistent with business-like definiteness and efficiency. The Board of Trustees represents the personal, though not organic, relation of the Settlement with the Seminary, the Chicago City Missionary Society, churches and other fellowship. The idea that the Settlement is first of all a home, is cordially recognized and kept in the fore-front.

The distinctively spiritual phase of the Commons life is practically that which should characterize the relation of an avowedly Christian family in any community. As stated above, its residents cordially co-operate in the work at the Tabernacle. The daily household vespers are open to the neighborhood. The Pleasant Sunday Afternoon during the winter months, with its choice music, select readings, helpful, hopeful speech, and quiet devotional moments, affords a restful retreat from the cares and sorrows of the work-a-day life of the neighborhood.

The other work of the Commons groups itself under the following departments:

EDUCATIONAL.—Kindergarten, industrial training, domestic science, common night-school branches, business forms, academic studies, art, music and a training school for Kindergarten teachers.

SOCIAL.—Groups and clubs for boys and girls, men and women, mothers and other naturally associated neighbors, in all of which not only the residents but many non-resident workers from the suburbs and elsewhere are included.

CIVIC.—The betterment of political administration, municipal conditions and public institutions is of special concern to the Settlement. The Seventeenth Ward Council of the Civic Federation was initiated by and centers at the Commons. Voters of all parties constitute the Seventeenth Ward Municipal Club, a non-partisan organization for the political welfare of the whole people. City and county institutions, police stations and justice courts, and the several departments of public service, receive studious interest and co-operation.

SANITARY.—Care is given to the sanitary conditions of the neighborhood, by hearty co-operation with the city authorities and volunteer inspections.

ECONOMICS.—Special studies and investigations in social and industrial economics are pursued, besides the regular work of the residents along these lines. The public appointments include the Tuesday evening meeting for men and women at which politico-economic subjects are discussed from all points of view and with free speech; occasional group meeting of students representing five city theological seminaries and other higher educational institutions are held, in which experts are heard and quizzed and their subjects discussed. A Settlement Fellowship has been established by friends in Michigan University which will provide for a year's residence of a graduate student to pursue original investigations in some line of social economics, the results of which are to be reported to the University by a thesis. An occasional Social Economic Conference is held, in which the ablest teachers and representatives of various theories of social progress are brought together, to the hearing and discussion of whose views the widest and freest invitation is extended.

CO-OPERATION WITH THE CHURCHES.—The neighboring church, the Tabernacle Congregational, with which most of the residents have been identified by membership and service, has committed the charge of its pulpit and pastorate to Professor Taylor, with Rev. Henry J. Condit as associate pastor. The application of the social settlement principles and methods to the down-town church problem is thus being practically demonstrated by this personal co-operation between the two groups. Chicago Commons is in ever-widening and increasingly practical co-operation also with churches of many localities and diverse denominational affiliations, in responding to requests for Christian social literature and invitations to its residents to present in public addresses the motive and methods of Christian social service.

PUBLICATION.—A monthly periodical, The Commons, is devoted to the social settlement life and work at home and abroad, and to the progress of brotherhood among men. Sketches of life in the crowded city-centers, reports of the sociological teaching in college, university and seminary class-rooms, notes of literature in the social field, the social work of the churches, and comments on current life from the Settlement point of view, are among its features. It is published at the nominal rate of fifty cents per year, for wider service in the common cause.

Correspondence regarding the Settlement may be addressed to the resident warden, Professor Graham Taylor, Chicago Commons, 140 North Union St., Chicago, Ill.

THE ALUMNI INSTITUTE.

There is a yearly gathering of the Alumni for lectures, sermons, essays, discussions and exegetical studies. in accordance with a programme arranged and published. The officers for this year are :

REV. L. L. WEST, President.

REV. S. S. HEALY, Vice-President.

REV. O. C. GRAUER, Secretary and Treasurer.

REV. A. H. ARMSTRONG,

REV. H. W. STOUGH,

REV. H. M. RICHARDSON,

} Programme Committee.

PROF. E. T. HARPER,

REV. H. J. CONDIT,

} Entertainment Committee.

The Institute meets at the Seminary Anniversary, in May. Ministers not of the Alumni may become associate members on their application and the vote of the body. Such applications should be made before the Anniversary in May, and may be sent to the Secretary of the Institute. Its exercises have been attended with steadily increasing interest and profit.

Publications by Members of the Faculty.

The Student's Life of Jesus.

By GEORGE HOLLEY GILBERT, PH.D., D.D. 1 vol., 412 pages, cloth, $1.50

The second edition of this work is published by The Macmillan Company, 56 Fifth Avenue, New York.

"A contribution to this theme of themes for which earnest students may well be profoundly grateful."—The Methodist Review.

"We can confidently recommend it as the best hand-book of the life of Jesus the student has yet at his command."—The Biblical World.

The Origin and Development of the Nicene Theology, with some reference to the Ritschlian view of Theology and History of Doctrine.

Lecture on the L. P. Stone Foundation, delivered at Princeton Theological Seminary, January, 1896. By REV. HUGH M. SCOTT, D.D. 1 vol., 390 pages, $2.00

These lectures discuss (1) Critical and Biblical Prolegomena to the Development of the Nicene Theology of the Divine Christ, (2) the Foundation of the Nicene Theology, (3) Development of the Doctrine of the Divine Christ, (4) Imperfect Apprehension of the Work of Christ, (5) The Holy Spirit and the Trinity, and (6) The Doctrine of Christ in its relation to the Rule of Faith and Dogma.

"Of value and timeliness."—The Advance.

"The value of these lectures is great."—The Independent.

"Exactly what is needed now by students of theology."—Pittsburg Christian Advocate.

"Since Liddon's lectures the most valuable book on the subject."—Lutheran World.

"The method of its work is what really commends it. We have no hesitation whatever in saying that any one who will purchase and study this volume will not only obtain a clear idea of the present state of religious thought but will be assisted to make a judicious selection in his future readings and studies."—The Standard.

"It is an exceedingly helpful volume to all desiring current theological opinion in a compact form. A capital index completes the work."—The Pulpit Treasury.

"It is of incalculable value to the preacher and student. There is nothing like it."—Religious Telescope.

"It would be a really difficult matter to find fault either with the idea of the book or its execution. In the small amount of space at their disposal the authors have condensed a large amount of most important information. One cannot think that there is a minister or an intelligent layman of any denomination who ought not to read this most valuable and most timely book."—Old Testament Student.
